MiMentor - Your Coach Education Partner

MiMentor provides world-class, unique and leading coach development programmes, combining multimedia visuals and a learning experience which is second to none.

Covering a wide range of topics, MiMentor is the perfect partner to support your coaching workforce to continually learn and develop their skills.

Courses involve practitioner-led application underpinned by academic theory. We explain the 'why' and show the 'how', providing useful resources and toolkits and facilitating discussion forums to help coaches apply theory into practice within their coaching environment.

Programmes are accessed on-demand and incorporate a holistic approach, allowing development at the coaches own pace in their own time, supporting personal growth and professional development.

Programmes are developed by experts with real world experience who work in the soccer industry with some of the worlds greatest clubs, teams and players.

MiMentor content and resources cover a range of disciplines spanning psychology, physiology, mental health and wellbeing, personal development, leadership and management, and can be released in line with internal CPD plans to ensure they complement your coaches development strategy.
